

Believe	Meaning
In form, all form is of the same form, and in substance, all substance is of the same substance:	No hereafter, no spiritual world next to the physical world
the almighty beginning-point before all time and outside of space and time, beginning-point of all that is, beginning-point of all possible and self-seen and mutually unseen and superimposed worlds, of the same form in form and of the same substance in substance Substance,	A physical world, all possible stories real and unreachable for each other (A starting point of all stories because only one world)
the omniscient end point, after all time, outside of space and time, omniscient in form and substance, therefore indistinguishable from the omnipotent beginning point, therefore as we begotten, born, lived, loved, suffered died, erected, omniscient end point, omniscient of form and substance ,	Omniscience at the end of time (One End Point) because all of our lives have been suffered in all variations invisible to each other (this also creates the illusion of body independent will and body independent consciousness) almighty the form and substance, therefore consubstantial with the almighty beginning point and the omniscient end point, therefore eternal life and resurrection of all that lives and dies.	Omniscience at the end of time = resurrection = (beginning point (father), end point (son), form and substance (spirit) are indistinguishable
